A LITTLE NOTE FROM ME

All my life I have loved to bake.

When I was very small, my dad built me a little brick house in the garden.

Inside my little brick house, I would bake wonderful imaginary cakes and he would buy them from me for a handful of pebbles.

All these years later, 'Bluebells' is my little brick house and I still bake every single day.

The cakes are no longer imaginary, but they are still just as wonderful.

I know my dad would have been proud of me.
